

PRODUCT REPORT

Credicorp Flex risk note: Insurance Renewals

By CM Beyer Commercial Research Desk - Commercial research editor - Updated 11 July 2026

A sourced risk note for directors weighing Credicorp Flex against cash reserves, supplier terms and the wider Credicorp product family.

Insurance renewals can be lumpy, but a cover gap can be more expensive than the premium. Approval is never the point by itself; the useful test is whether the company can repay without creating the next gap.

Credicorp Flex belongs in the comparison when insurance renewals creates repeated short gaps that should be drawn and repaid in cycles. If the same pressure repeats, pause and compare terms, reserves or a facility before using a one-off fix.

Compare the insurer's own instalment option before using a separate finance route. The external links keep the page anchored to public material rather than sales copy.

For Credicorp Flex, the discipline is to draw for short needs and repay when receipts land, not to treat the limit as extra revenue.

Sources checked

Credicorp Flex product page - Credicorp - <https://credicorp.co.uk/business-credit-facility/>

Business finance guidance - British Business Bank - <https://www.british-business-bank.co.uk/business-guidance/guidance-articles/finance>

Compare Credicorp products - Credicorp - <https://credicorp.co.uk/compare/>

Types of business rates relief - GOV.UK - <https://www.gov.uk/business-rates-relief>

Landing page: <https://creditcorporation.co.uk/news/credicorp-flex-insurance-renewals-risk-note/>