Credicorp Flex report: recurring stock replenishment

By CM Beyer Commercial Research Desk - Commercial research editor - Updated 11 July 2026

Why a revolving facility may be cleaner than repeated one-off loans for stock cycles.

Stock does not always move in one tidy purchase. Many companies restock in waves. Treat the borrowing as a job to be done, not as extra revenue.

Credicorp Flex is the product to compare when the company expects repeated drawdowns and repayments. Compare the pounds repaid against the cost of waiting, delaying the supplier or missing the trade.

A facility is not free cash. Each drawing should still have a reason, amount and repayment plan. The citations make the route auditable without copying source text.

For Credicorp Flex, the discipline is to draw for short needs and repay when receipts land, not to treat the limit as extra revenue.
