Credicorp Loan report: corporation tax cash-flow planning

By CM Beyer Commercial Research Desk - Commercial research editor - Updated 11 July 2026

A plain report on using a short-term company facility when Corporation Tax is due before a receipt clears.

Corporation Tax has its own payment deadline. A profitable company can still feel a pinch if invoices are late. A director should separate timing pressure from a weaker margin before choosing any finance route.

Credicorp Loan is the product to compare when the company needs a fixed amount for a fixed date. The product fit comes from the shape of the cost, not from the page label.

The tax itself is not a surprise. A director should first check whether the gap is timing or a deeper margin problem. Recheck the linked product and public-source pages before relying on the note.

For Credicorp Loan, keep the amount fixed and the exit date visible. If either keeps moving, compare Flex before committing.
